Background to the Census

Legal Authority for the Census

The 2011 Population and Housing Census was taken under the provisions of the Statistics (Amendment) Act 1984. In accordance with Section 4 of the Statistics Act, the House of Representatives approved the Census Order, 2011 on January 5, 2011. This Order authorized the taking of a Population and Housing Census in Jamaica between April 5 and December 31, 2011. Also, under Section 6 of the Act, the Minister of Finance and Planning made the Census Regulations, 2011 on January 5, 2011. These Regulations outlined the conditions under which the census was to be conducted.

Coverage, Design and Methodology

Censuses of population are generally conducted on either a de facto or de jure basis. A de facto census seeks to determine the number and characteristics of the population present in an area at the time of the census. The de jure census identifies the population usually resident in the area whether physically present or not, at the time of the census. The 2011 census, like all since 1943, was conducted on a de jure basis. The de jure count includes all persons, Jamaicans and non-Jamaicans whose usual place of residence was in Jamaica even if they were temporarily (less than six months) abroad at the time of the census.

The following groups were excluded:

(i) All Jamaicans (including diplomatic personnel) who were away from the country for six months or more;
(ii) All visitors to Jamaica who are usual residents of other countries; and
(iii) All foreign diplomatic personnel located in Jamaica.

One questionnaire was developed for use in the census to collect information from households (Appendix II – Form PC011A) and one for individuals (Appendix III – Form PC011B). The data collecting method utilised was the "Interviewer Method". One census taker was assigned to each enumeration district (the smallest census geographic area) to list every building in the area assigned. Where the building was found to be the living quarters of an individual or a group of individuals the form was completed for each household and each person. Each census taker worked with a household form and an individual form. Consideration was also given to the enumeration of persons who live in institutions as well as persons who were located on the streets and this was taken into account in the design.

The census design also included a post-enumeration survey planned as a coverage assessment tool. The post-enumeration survey was conducted during the period September 7-30, 2011 in all parishes and covered a five per cent sample of census EDs. In total, 286 EDs were eventually canvassed.

The Institutional Population

All institutions which could be regarded as the usual residence of the inhabitants, either because they had no other residence or because they were 'long-term' residents, were included. General hospitals, public and private were therefore generally excluded. The treatment of the institutional population as regards the questions asked was determined by the accessibility of the residents to the interviewer. Where no access was possible, only age and sex data were retrieved from administrative records. Where access was possible, the entire individual questionnaire was administered. Trainees and students of all educational institutions were canvassed with the individual questionnaire.

If an institution contained separate quarters for staff members, caretakers, etc., these quarters were treated as private dwellings.

Types of Institutions

(i) Convents and monasteries
(ii) University and college residences
(iii) Hostels and residences for trainees and/or graduate teachers, nurses and ministers of religion
(iv) Military camps, police training schools and police barracks
(v) Boarding schools and other residential schools
(vi) Correctional institutions, penitentiaries, prisons, rehabilitation centres, juvenile institutions
(vii) Mental institutions
(viii) Homes for children/aged/infirm/needy
(ix) Hospitals and homes providing specialized care
(x) Hospitals and homes for the blind, deaf and other handicapped

Persons on the Streets

This group comprises persons who may or may not be usual residents of a private or non-private dwelling. Area Managers were instructed to familiarise themselves with the locations where such persons tend to frequent for purposes of sleeping, and obtain as much information as possible. Locations included bus parks, markets, drains and sidewalks. Some persons were also identified by charity organizations that provide daily meals for such persons.

The Scope of the Census

The United Nations Principles and Recommendations guided all technical considerations including the choice of topics. The topics included on the census questionnaire were as follows:

Individual Questionnaire

- Age
- Sex
- Relationship to Head of Household
- Religious Affiliation
- Ethnic origin
- Marital and Union Status
- Educational Attainment
- Physical and Mental Limitations
- Birthplace and Residence
- Training
- Economic Activity and Social Welfare
- Fertility
- Transportation
- Information and Communication Technology

Household questionnaire

- Type of unit
- Material of outer walls
- Material of roofing
- Number of rooms
- Tenure of land and dwelling
- Availability and type of kitchen, bathroom and toilet facilities
- Method of disposal of solid waste
- Source of water for domestic use
- Source of drinking water
- Type of lighting
- Type of fuel used for cooking
- Availability of telephone and other communication devices and facilities
- Migration and mortality

Geographic Division of Jamaica for Census Purposes

Jamaica was divided into 5,776 geographic units called enumeration districts (EDs) for the purpose of data collection during the 2011 Population and Housing Census. Each ED is an independent unit that shares common boundaries with contiguous EDs. The number of dwellings/households contained in the ED (estimated before the census) was the primary determination of the size of an ED. This was approximately 150 dwellings/households in urban areas and 100 in rural areas. Each ED was designed to be of a size that would ensure an equitable workload for each census taker, and because dwellings are more widely spaced in rural areas than in urban areas, rural EDs usually contained fewer dwellings/households than their urban counterparts. When grouped together, enumeration districts reconstitute larger divisions; special area, constituency and the parish.

Field Organization

For administrative purposes, the island was divided into seven regions, 62 coordinator areas and 1,029 supervisory zones. A central census office was established in the Kingston Metropolitan Area (KMA). Seven regional managers who were selected from STATIN's permanent field supervisors operated from offices in the KMA, Linstead, May Pen, Black River and Montego Bay. Each of the 62 area coordinators maintained an office in a central location in the area. The field organization operated under the direction of the Director of Field Services.

Field Enumeration

Field enumeration started slowly on 5 April 2011 as many census takers had not been issued identification cards. For an identification card to be issued, the area coordinator must have completed the selection process and submit the relevant information to the head office where checks had to be made to verify the training location of the individual. Photographs for identification were stored by training sites so this information had to be retrieved to request the identification from the service providers.

The collection process limped for the first three weeks of April and returns were slow. Census takers began to express dissatisfaction with what they considered late payments of training fees. By the beginning of May with such payments made, the pace of enumeration picked up somewhat but census workers again began agitating for payments of claims for travelling even in some instances with very little or no work done. The militancy continued as the problems with these first payments were resolved very close to the pay period. Some persons threatened to leave the job. At this time, members of the senior staff of STATIN were kept busy responding to the media which were contacted by dissatisfied census workers.

A number of supervisors and census takers gave up the job while others were relieved because of non-performance but by the time, there were persons available as replacements. The data collection phase ended on 31 August 2011.

Challenges of Data Collection

The main challenges encountered could be summarized in the following

- the general hostility of the population with what was regarded as a 'government' project;
- the inability to relate their participation with immediate personal benefits;
- the belief that the information would be given to the tax collectors;
- violence in some areas and the inability to be out late at nights;
- incidents of dog bites;
- lack of access to gated communities;
- inefficient and unproductive census workers.

Ethnicity and Religion in the 2011 Census

Introduction

The United Nations Principles and Recommendations for Population and Housing Censuses for the 2010 round of censuses (United Nations, 2008) contained very brief guidelines on ethnicity. The guidelines recognized not only the sensitivity of the topic but also the various ways in which the concept of ethnicity is defined by countries. Nationality (country or area of origin as distinct from citizenship or country of legal nationality), race, colour, language, religion, customs of dress or eating, tribe or various combinations of these are typical of the characteristics used by countries in determining ethnicity. Regarding the religion, the guidelines present as possible definitions – "religious or spiritual belief or preference, regardless of whether or not this belief is represented by an organized group; or affiliation with an organized group having specific religious or spiritual tenets". The recommendation is that each country including religion as a census topic, should use the definition most appropriate to its needs (United Nations 2008, 138).

While the United Nations guidelines propose these topics as "other useful topics" (United Nations 2008), rather than recommended topics, for Caribbean censuses, they are considered to be 'core' topics, because of the racial and religious diversity of these populations. In the Jamaican context, the emphasis is placed on race. With changing social and political climates, race for most societies has come to be defined in social rather than biological terms. For Jamaica, the responses from the census are considered to reflect more of people's perception of themselves rather than ascription to a particular group on the basis of physical appearance. Testing of this question for Jamaican censuses evoke very interesting responses as many persons appear confused by the question "To which race or ethnic group would you say you belong?" Census takers were instructed to read the categories as written on the questionnaire and to accept the respondent's reply. The instructions even suggest that the census taker might remind the respondent of the Jamaican motto "Out of Many One People".

The relevant question for ethnicity on the individual questionnaire, which is reproduced below, shows a direct question with the relevant categories indicated.

One of the most requested items of census data is religion. Unfortunately, it poses considerable problems for data collection. There are numerous churches and congregations in Jamaica and there is a limit for identification on the census questionnaire. Additionally, care has to be taken in combining groups to avoid conflicts of beliefs and practices.

The relevant question for religious affiliation or denomination on the individual questionnaire, which is reproduced below, shows a direct question with the relevant categories indicated.

Census Findings

The response categories for Ethnicity in 2011 were the same as for 2001 and both sets of responses are shown below.

Table (xii) Percentage Distribution of the Population by Ethnic Origin: 2001 and 2011

	2011		2001
Ethnic Origin	Number	Per cent of Total	Number	Per cent of Total

Not Reported	17,962	0.67	21,411	0.82

Examination of the responses for the 'Other' categories, which were written on the form, revealed that the majority of the cases were in fact nationalities. A total of 222 responses coded 'Other' were Indian with the distinction in some cases being made as North Indian and South Indian. These presumably would be scored as East Indian but no attempt has been made to reassign them. Afro-Caribbean was given for 161 responses, and 105 cases of 'brown'. Descriptions clearly identifiable as of Middle Eastern Origin numbered 70. Other responses included Jamaican and West Indian.

The report from the 2001 Census (STATIN 2003) noted the overall decline among the traditional Christian denominations and the rise of the evangelicals. The 2011 data show that this trend has continued. The data presented in the table show in the first place that, just over one fifth (21%) of the population indicates 'No religion/denomination'. The largest single group was the Seventh-Day Adventists accounting for 12 per cent of the total representing 322,261 persons. This was followed by the Pentecostals with 319,730 persons representing 12 per cent of the total. Other Church of God (247,291 or 9%), New Testament Church of God (192,128 or 7%) and Baptist (180,712 approximately 7%) were the top five denomination groups. The approximately 142,000 persons reporting 'Other' should be noted. The figures presented in this report have been revised since publication in the Volume 1 published earlier. The basis of the revision is the re-allocation of cases previously recorded as 'Other'. As reported in Volume 1 the responses classified as 'Other' would be examined with a view to re-allocating them in the stated categories. This process resulted in the re-distribution of 27,035 responses. Of these, the majority (24,535) were re-classified as Pentecostal. United Church gained 974 from responses that reflected the individual churches that make up that group. The remainder was distributed among several other groups. The remaining 'Other' represents responses that are not easily classifiable into the stated categories. The typical response given was the name of a church, in most cases, not easily identifiable as being associated with any category.

The one inclusion in 2011 was the Revivalists as suggested by one of the church leaders with whom consultations were held.

With respect to changes over the two censuses, the declines were largest for Anglicans (20%), Roman Catholics (14%), Methodists (13%) and Moravians and United Church (12%). The Baptists, which have remained the largest traditional denomination with over 180,000 persons at census 2011, experienced a decline of four per cent.

Of note are the increases seen for the small non-Christian religious groups. The number of responses for Islam was 1,512 in 2011 compared with 1,024 in 2001 while for Hinduism and Judaism the increases in numbers between 2001 and 2011 were from 1,453 to 1,838 and 357 to 506 respectively.

Notes to the Tables

1. Summary of population counts:
   (i) Population in private dwellings identified from manual records: 2,553,949
   (ii) Population enumerated in Institutions: 18,420
   (iii) Population enumerated on the streets: 934
   (iv) Total population identified from manual records: 2,573,303
   (v) Number of dwellings identified as occupied but no contact made with residents: 97,000
   (vi) Population completing questionnaire: 2,214,341
   (vii) Final population count adjusted for undercount: 2,697,983.
2. The tables in this report are based on the adjusted data. The adjustments were guided by the use of standard demographic analysis based on the 2001 census count and vital statistics for the intercensal period. This was supplemented in part by findings of the post-enumeration survey conducted immediately following the main enumeration.
3. Adjustment factors based on age and sex for each parish have been applied to the enumerated population.
4. Adjustment factors are calculated to five decimal places. The final adjusted figures are rounded to the nearest ten.
5. Rounding may cause minor discrepancies between totals and the sums of the component parts of a table.
6. The census tabulations are based on different population groups, determined by the questions posed to these groups. The tabulations on enrolment and educational attainment are based on a total population of 2,684,115 representing persons in private dwellings and the following institutions:
   - Convents and monasteries
   - University and college residences
   - Hostels and residences for trainees and/or graduate teachers, nurses and ministers of religion
   - Military camps, police training schools and police barracks
   - Boarding schools and other residential schools
